

Metal, Clay Chimineas and Firepits

Metal parts will rust. How much they rust is dependent on the following:

- Whether they are left outside in all weathers
- How much they are used
- How well they are looked after
- As well as other issues

NB: All can be re-painted. Rust does not affect use.

Metal and clay surfaces can become very hot in use and will burn the skin if touched. Burning temperatures can be very high. We recommend the use of a chiminea guard when small children, elderly people or animals are present.

Discolouration will always occur on any chiminea due to the intense heat.

Clay Chimineas are very sensitive to frost and moisture and should be stored indoors when not in use.

ALWAYS READ THE INSTRUCTIONS
BEFORE USING ANY CHIMINEA OR FIRE PIT
